hanging soft in the air the dreams of my day
disappear
nighttime is near.
and it comes
so darkly
kills my dreams
completely
a body needs another
so to take, so to give

especially now
when i'm lying here
alone with myself
i wish to god that you were here
alone with me too.

glistening gossamer
resting soft on my cheek
the dreams of my night
disappear
daytime is here.
and it comes
so starkly
kills my dreams
a heart in ice
a soul in isolation
cannot live

especially now
when i'm lying here
alone with myself
alone with me too
