

plea

hi.

hey ya know it's been a while since I've heard god I miss your smile in words upon the page

I've aged.

shiftn' gears too fast, too hard I almost ripped my self a part

too dry for tears

I lay just like a rock upon a barren beach.

I reached for arms to hold me but you know, they all told me they'd stay with me
and lay with me
if I would leave my soul behind.

well maybe I would
if only I could -

but my soul is there with you I only want to be with you why don't you write
here comes the night
alone again
without you.