

without you
(for paul)

just one more night in this lonely bed then i'll be lying, my head beside you one more wakening to silent cold then i'll be dawning the day a warmer way just once more, these walls and i we'll get myself together to get by just one more day, listing things to tell you then i'll be there to touch you

one more day
one more night
